The tokens ordered are now loaded onto the store as inventory. You no longer receive a license code to assign to a student via Gilmore Global.

You should now create and save the class within AWS Builder Labs.

When contacting customer service please reference the unique order number to expedite any order queries.

If you are unable to utilize the tokens via AWS Builder Labs, you may revert back to the old process where you would purchase an eKit and assign the license code material to the student. Please note the eKit material will eventually be removed from the store altogether at a late date.

Dear Student:

Thank you for purchasing an Amazon Web Services eBook. Please log in to your existing eVantage account or create an account at evantage.gilmoreglobal.com to redeem the license code below.

When you have redeemed your license code your eBook will be available for 730 days online and perpetual if downloaded to a computer or mobile device.
